RULING

Based on the information before the court, it is evident that the best interests of the parties' minor children are served by the court adopting the parenting plan recommended by Family Court Services on January 27, 2012. The court will do so and the parenting plan is set forth below:

Parental Responsibilities

- 1. The parents shall share in the responsibility and confer in good faith on matters concerning the children's health, education and welfare. Both parents shall have access to the children's school, medical, mental health and dental records and the right to consult with professionals who are providing services to them (joint legal custody).
- 2. In the presence of the children, all contact between the parents shall be civil and respectful. Neither parent shall make derogatory remarks about the other parent, nor allow others to do so, in the presence of the children.
- 3. Lexie should remain in therapy and both parents should follow any treatment recommendations made by her therapist. The therapist should be made aware (if s/he isn't already) about Lexie's current resistance to school attendance.

Timeshare Schedule

- 4. The children shall live primarily with Debra, and Matthew shall care for them every weekend of the month (except the first) from Friday at 6:30 p.m. to Sunday at 6:30 p.m. If Monday is a holiday, the return exchange shall be Monday at 6:30 p.m. The first weekend of every month (defined by the first Saturday of the month) shall be spent with Debra. Exchanges shall be curbside at the parents' homes with the receiving parent to provide transportation (joint physical custody).

- 5. Holidays/Vacations:
 - a. Any holiday not specified below shall be spent according to the regular schedule unless the parents mutually agree otherwise.
 - b. Mother's Day, Father's Day, and the parents' birthdays shall be spent with the respective parent each year from 10 a.m. to 6:30 p.m.
 - c. If either parent is not scheduled to have parenting time with the children on one of their birthdays, he or she may arrange a two-hour period on that day for a birthday meal or outing (with both children).
 - d. Spring break shall be split every year. In even-numbered years, Debra shall care for the children from Friday after school until Wednesday at noon and Matthew shall care for them from Wednesday at noon until the Monday return to school. In odd-numbered years, this pattern shall reverse.
 - e. Easter shall be spent with Matthew every year from 10 a.m. to 6:30 p.m.
 - f. Thanksgiving shall be spent with Debra until 6 p.m. every year, and Matthew shall care for the children the remainder of the weekend (Thursday 6 p.m. through Sunday at 6:30 p.m.).
 - g. Christmas break: In even-numbered years, Matthew shall care for the children from the last day of school until Christmas Day at 2 p.m. Debra shall then care for them from 2 p.m. on Christmas Day through New Year's Day at 2 p.m. Matthew shall then care for them for the remainder of the break. In odd-numbered years, this pattern shall reverse.
 - h. Summer: Each parent may take up to four weeks of vacation with the children every year with at least 30 days' notice to the other parent. Specific weeks shall be first-come, first-served.

RULING

Custody and Visitation

Based on the information before the court, it is evident that the best interests of the parties' minor child are served by the court adopting the parenting plan recommended by Family Court Services on November 4, 2011. The court will do so and the parenting plan is set forth below:

Parental Responsibilities

1. The parents shall share in the responsibility and confer in good faith on matters concerning Rachel's health, education and welfare. Both parents shall have access to Rachel's school, medical, mental health and dental records and the right to consult with professionals who are providing services to her (joint legal custody).

Timeshare Schedule

2. Rachel shall live primarily with Barbara, and Ron shall care for her as follows (joint physical custody):
 - a. On alternate weekends from Friday after school until the Monday return to school.
 - b. On Thursdays prior to Barbara's weekends from after school until the Friday return to school.
3. Holidays, vacations and other non-school days:

- a. All major holidays shall be alternated (Easter, Thanksgiving, Christmas, New Year's, Fourth of July). Details shall be by mutual agreement.
- b. Mother's Day and Father's Day shall be spent with the respective parent each year.
- c. Monday holidays shall be spent with whichever parent had Rachel for the weekend. The exception shall be that if Barbara is working on a Monday holiday when Rachel is scheduled to be with her, Ron shall care for Rachel that day until 5 p.m. (the return shall be at Barbara's office).
- d. Any other single days off from school (additional holidays, parent-teacher conference days, etc.) shall be spent according to the regular schedule. The exception shall be that if Barbara is working on a non-school day when Rachel is scheduled to be with her, Ron shall care for Rachel that day until 5 p.m. (the return shall be at Barbara's office).
- e. Spring break, ski week, and Christmas vacation shall all be divided evenly. Details shall be by mutual agreement (it is suggested that the parents each take one week of the Christmas break, and alternate having spring break or ski week each year). During this time, it is each parent's responsibility to arrange for care of Rachel if they need to work during the day.
- f. The regular schedule shall be in effect through the summer. Each parent may take up to two weeks of vacation with Rachel with at least 30 days' notice to the other parent. The parents shall also work together to arrange for camps and other activities for Rachel. On any day during the summer which is not vacation time, in which there is no other scheduled activity for Rachel, and in which Barbara is working, Ron may care for Rachel that day until 5 p.m. (the return shall be at Barbara's office).

Child and Spousal Support

Petitioner/Wife's motion for guideline child support and pendente lite spousal support is granted as follows:

Respondent/Husband receives monthly disability benefits in the amount of $2,577 taxable and $3,491 non-taxable. Husband has no deductions or other adjustments to his income. He files taxes as single with one exemption and standard deductions. Husband's timeshare is 30%.

Wife's current earnings from employment are $2,619 per month. Based on the two most recent paystubs submitted to the court (for the periods ending 7/15/11 and 8/15/11), Wife's average mandatory retirement contribution is $499 per month, she pays $496 for health insurance and $43 for union dues. Wife also contributes $200 per month to a deferred compensation plan. Wife does not have a FICA deduction. Wife files taxes as head of household with two exemptions and itemized deductions for mortgage interest and property taxes of $887 and $453 respectively.

Based on the above assumptions set forth in the attached SupportTax calculation, commencing September 21, 2011, Husband shall pay to Wife monthly guideline child support in the amount of $1,086, payable on the first day of each month, and continuing until further order of court, or until their child marries, dies, is emancipated, reaches age 19, or reaches age 18 and is not a full-time high school student, whichever occurs first.

The parties shall share equally all reasonable uninsured medical and dental expenses incurred on behalf of their minor child, and childcare costs related to either party's employment or reasonably necessary education or training for employment skills. The parties are ordered to comply with the provisions of Family Code §4063 in seeking reimbursement for uninsured medical and dental expenses, and a copy of the NOTICE OF RIGHTS AND RESPONSIBILITIES – Health-Care Costs and Reimbursement Procedures shall be attached to the ORDER AFTER HEARING. These provisions shall apply to reimbursement for childcare expenses as well.

The parties shall also share equally the costs of their daughter's extracurricular activities that are agreed upon in advance and in writing, with agreement not to be unreasonably withheld.

Effective September 21, 2011, Husband shall pay Wife guideline spousal support of $1,083 per month, payable on the first day of each month, and continuing until the death of either party, Wife's remarriage for further court, whichever shall first occur. Spousal support payments are taxable to Wife and deductible by Husband.

Husband shall be entitled to credit against this support order for all sums paid to Wife or on behalf of Wife and the minor child subsequent to the effective date of the order.

Property Control

Wife's request for exclusive temporary use, possession and control of the Mirada Avenue residence is granted. Wife shall be responsible for payment of the mortgage, property taxes and insurance on the residence during the period of her exclusive occupancy. The court reserves jurisdiction over both parties' Epstein and Watts credit and reimbursement claims.

Attorney Fees and Costs

The court reserves Wife's request for attorney fees and costs until the time of settlement or trial. Each party has access to liquid assets they can use to pay fees and costs, and Wife has failed to comply with Marin County Rule, Family 6.35.B in that she has not shown services rendered and time expended.

Wife's counsel to prepare formal order.
